California's recovery is underway. But we can't be satisfied with simply going back to the way things were. The California Comeback Plan outlines comprehensive strategies and major investments to address five of the state's most stubborn challenges. Under Governor Newsom's $100 billion plan, California will come roaring back from this pandemic.

Newsom's plan provides a multi-pronged approach to providing immediate relief to Californians that need it most. Among the largest investments will be a tripling of the state's direct stimulus effort to include a total of nearly $12 billion in direct cash payments to Californians.

Newsom's plan will expand the Golden State Stimulus to middle class families, creating the biggest state tax rebate in American history. Two-thirds of Californians will benefit from a stimulus check of at least $600, and families with kids will now benefit from an additional $500.

The California Comeback Plan would also include the largest statewide renter assistance program in the country, helping qualified low-income Californians pay back 100% of their back-rent and rent for several months into the future and giving billions to Californians to pay their overdue utility bills.
